Vice Chair Arley W. McRae called the regular meeting of the District Board of Trustees of Santa Fe College to order at 4 p.m. at the Charles R. and Nancy V. Perry Center in Alachua, Florida, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance.

Action was taken on the agenda items as indicated on the attached summary sheets. Upon unanimous consent of the board and for good cause found by the Vice Chair, the October 16, 2012, board agenda was amended as follows:

ADDED: Item 7.6 – Memorandum of Understanding with University of Florida – Seahorse
Key Marine Laboratory

The president asked Ms. Jesse Vander Biezen, Project Manager in Facilities Services, to review the college's space assessment and allocation project. She noted her charge was to assess the physical organization of departments on campus, analyze locations and adjacency requirements to supporting departments, review the level of interaction with students, determine the areas of underutilized space, and recognize the spatial needs of departments encountering growth. In July, the college presented the information in a campus-wide meeting and as promised she continually updated staff and faculty about any changes to the projected timeline. She then showed a slide depicting the areas impacted by the space assessment recommendations in three separate phases, in which some work will be performed in tandem and others in succession of each other. She then identified the different departments that would be impacted. She added that coordinating the success of these moves is a team effort and thanked the various areas for their support. If everything stays on schedule, the project will be completed in 2014. In response to Trustee Mallini's question, Ms. Gibson replied that the total cost would be approximately $1.4 million and the funds were part of a transfer from the operating budget previously approved by the board.

The meeting adjourned at 5:10 p.m.

President's Report

Information Item

Dr. Sasser thanked Dr. Gridley and her staff for hosting today's board meeting and wished her a happy birthday.

President Sasser asked Trustees Jackson and Lee to comment on the ACCT convention. Trustee Jackson noted that the whole experience was wonderful and their presentation was well attended. Trustee Lee thanked Dr. Sasser for the opportunity to experience the convention. She thought their presentation was well received and she learned a lot from the conference.

The president reminded the board that the fall board workshop is scheduled for Monday, October 22, at Trustee Mallini's home in Gainesville. He thanked Mr. Mallini and his wife Dianne for serving as hosts. Also, the next board meeting is set for November 20 in Starke at the Andrews Cultural Center starting at 4 p.m.

The president said the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools reaffirmation visit is October 29-31 and that there will be a workshop to discuss the board's role during that time.

Strategic Planning

Information Item
419.06, 12-13

Dr. Lisa Armour, Vice President for Assessment, Research, and Technology, discussed this academic year's SMART Objectives and presented an example of a SMART Objective with a strategic focus. She provided the board with a handout that depicted the English Department with the primary focus on ENC1101. She indicated in order to both increase grading parity and clarify student expectations in ENC1101, the English Department is building a common grading rubric for assessment of student work demonstrating mastery of the communication general education learning outcome. Dr. Armour displayed the Dashboard and indicated where the link would be located for the SMART Objectives.

President Sasser asked Dr. Armour to share with the board the recent breach of security that occurred at Northwest Florida State College (NWFSC). Dr. Armour stated that NWFSC's computer system was breached, which led to personal information being stolen from approximately 200,000 individuals statewide. The comprised data was on all Florida Bright Future students who were eligible for scholarships in the school years 2005-2006 and 2006-2007. Included in the information were their names, Social Security numbers, birth dates, gender, and ethnicity. In addition, personal information of NWFSC employees was taken, which included personal banking information. Dr. Armour then asked Mr. Tim Nesler, Interim Associate Vice President for Information Technology Services and Chief Information Officer, to share what steps the college has taken to protect its system. Mr. Nesler stated that when this was first reported, the college did a quick assessment of all transmitted, stored, and processed data to verify that college data was secure, which it was. He stated that while the Department of Education provides all its information in one file, the college uses only that data pertaining to its own students and destroys the rest, which was not done at NWFSC. After a brief discussion Trustee Mallini commented that, that to get another perspective, it might be best to use an outside vendor to assess security measures in the future.

Memorandum of Understanding with University of Florida Warrington College of Business Administration

This memorandum of understanding between Santa Fe College and the University of Florida Warrington College of Business (WCBA) continues the unique articulation agreement between the two institutions, in which SF graduates meeting certain requirements are guaranteed admission to the WCBA online Bachelor of Science in Business Administration program. Students in the online program will continue to have access to all aspects of student life on the UF campus, including the opportunity to purchase athletic tickets, use the student health care center and fitness center, and attend cultural events. They are also supported by the Warrington College of Business through academic advisement and other student services and participate in UF's graduation ceremonies. As part of this MOU, UF continues to provide 50% funding for a student support specialist, who recruits and provides orientation to students in the online program, as well as coordinates proctoring of all exams at SF.

Currently, approximately 120 Santa Fe graduates who meet minimum grade point average and common course requirements are enrolled in the online business program at UF. This agreement thereby continues to provide extraordinary access to the most sought after transfer college at the university.

Renewable Energy Program - Condensed Solar Power System -
Revised Scope and Budget

412.1104, 12-13

Project Description:

The college has an unmatched history of energy conservation as it has reduced electrical energy on the Northwest Campus for six consecutive years between 2003-04 and 2009-10, totaling more than 3.6 million kWh. Santa Fe is one of the only institutions served by Gainesville Regional Utilities that was prepared to take part in the feed-in-tariff program introduced in early 2009. The college now has four solar installations on campus, two thermal and two photovoltaic, which generate nearly 100,000 watts of power.

The concept of this project was originally planned around a hybrid condensed solar power system. However, space constraints and the availability of equipment sized for this project has negatively impacted payback and overall feasibility.

Since the existing solar systems are only accessible to SF staff and students through the energy dashboard or live link, the college is now re-focusing its efforts to make this project more of a hands-on or accessible learning experience. Renamed Renewable Energy Accessible Lab (REAL), the demonstration lab will contain photovoltaic, evacuated tube and parabolic trough collectors, as well as an organic rankine cycle system that will generate electricity and heating for hot water.

Discussion: Mr. Bill Reese, Associate Vice President for Facilities Services, reviewed items 4.1 and 4.2 individually. In regard to Item 4.1, he noted that the college has an unmatched history of energy conservation, as it has reduced electrical energy on the Northwest Campus for six consecutive years, totaling more than 3.6 million kilowatt hours. The college is one of the only institutions served by Gainesville Regional Utilities that was prepared to take part in the feed-in-tariff program introduced in early 2009. The college now has four solar installations on campus, two thermal and two photovoltaic, which generate nearly 100,000 watts of power. He added that since the existing solar systems are only accessible to SF staff and students through the energy dashboard or live link, the college is now refocusing its efforts to make this project more of a hands-on or accessible learning experience. In regard to Trustee Oody's question, Mr. Reese replied that the revised scope of the project is to make it available as a learning lab.

Permission to Advertise for Annual Architectural Services

412.1105, 12-13

Project Description:

The college frequently requires architectural services for minor projects (under $2,000,000). Pursuant to the State Requirements for Educational Facilities (SREF) section 4.1, Florida Statute 287.055, and college rule 6.15, there are clear procedures in place for the advertisement and selection for architectural services under a continuing contract.

The college is asking permission to advertise, select, and negotiate contracts with a minimum of two architectural firms for continuing contracts for the design of minor projects.

Discussion: Ms. Ginger Gibson, Vice President for Administrative Affairs and CFO, reviewed items 5.1 and 5.2 individually. She noted that the Operational Audit Report year ending June 30, 2012, summary of findings is attached and explained that the board chair, along with the president, met with the auditors to review the report. The full report has been released and is available on the State of Florida Auditor General's website. She added that the college does not agree with all of the findings, and there were no reoccurring findings from the last report. Vice Chair McRae thanked Ms. Gibson and everyone involved for their hard work and leadership.

President Sasser asked Ms. Gibson to share some good news that the college learned of recently. Ms. Gibson replied that the program integrity regulations regarding Federal Financial Aid disbursement included a new definition of a clock hour program, effective on July 1, 2011. Based on the new definition, the college's PSAV programs should have been administered as clock hour programs for Title IV purposes beginning on July 1, 2011. This meant that the college had to "time clock" student's attendance in class in order to allocate appropriate financial aid to students in these programs at the college. In addition, the college learned that, based on the attendance regulations, it was not feasible to calculate attendance on hybrid courses. Because of some confusion about how the state views these programs and/or misunderstanding of the new regulations, the Federal School Participation Division-Atlanta will not require Florida College System institutions to recalculate aid using clock hours for the 2011-12 award year. However, this information was available to everyone prior to the beginning of the fall 2012 term, and, therefore, all the institutions should have awarded and disbursed Title IV aid for these programs according to the applicable clock hour regulations beginning with the 2012-13 award year, including fall 2012, which Santa Fe has done.

Pursuant to Florida Statutes Section 11.45, at least every three years, the Auditor General's Office conducts an operational audit of the accounts and records of Santa Fe College. An operational audit is an audit conducted for the purpose of evaluating management's performance in establishing and maintaining internal controls, including controls designed to prevent and detect fraud, waste, and abuse, and in administering assigned responsibilities in accordance with applicable laws, administrative rules, contracts, grant agreements, and other guidelines. Operational audits must be conducted in accordance with government auditing standards. Such audits examine internal controls that are designed and placed in operation to promote and encourage the achievement of management's control objectives in the categories of compliance, economic and efficient operations, reliability of financial records and reports and safeguarding of assets, and identify weaknesses in those internal controls.

Staff of the Auditor General conducted an Operational Audit of Santa Fe College during the time period of January 2012 through July 2012. The completed report #2013-016 has been released and is available on the State of Florida Auditor Generals website at the following link:

New Rule 2.14: Institutional Review Board

410.468, 12-13

The college proposes new Rule 2.14 to formally establish an Institutional Review Board to protect human rights and support the interests of the college regarding research activities conducted by employees, students, or others outside the college involving students, employees, alumni, or other college resources. When pursuit of scholarly work and research involves the use of human subjects for data collection and analysis, the IRB will ensure that research is conducted in a manner that protects the rights, safety, and welfare of human subjects. The president is tasked with the responsibility to assure compliance with all applicable state and federal laws and regulations, and the president is authorized to delegate authority to designated college officials as needed.

The Institutional Review Board will be charged with the review of proposals involving human subjects in research to ensure each project's compliance with ethical standards (e.g. informed consent and confidentiality) to avoid, to the extent possible, any risk to study participants at this institution or any risk to study participants in studies conducted by faculty and staff employed by this institution. The IRB will follow established ethical standards from the federal Office for Human Research Protections on behalf of the SF Board of Trustees. Detailed procedures will be presented to President's Cabinet for approval.

Resolution to Join Florida Adult and Technical Distance Educational Consortium 408.2018, 12-13

Santa Fe College Adult Education Programs and the Alachua County Public Schools (ACPS) are collaborating to provide access to online Adult Basic Education (ABE), General Educational Development, and English for Speakers Other Languages (ESOL) curriculum programs for students in Alachua County. Because the Florida Adult and Technical Distance Educational Consortium (FATDEC) allows only one subscription per county, SF and ACPS will share a subscription, thereby giving access to FATDEC to all Alachua County Adult Education students who meet the program entry requirements and who are enrolled in either SF or ACPS's Adult Education programs. As previously approved by the board on April 17, 2012, the Santa Fe College Adult General Education program grant budget will cover Santa Fe College's portion of the cost of the yearly subscription ($7,350). Santa Fe College will serve only its enrolled students, and ACPS will serve only its enrolled students.

In order to be eligible for the subscription, SF must obtain a signed board resolution authorizing the college to join an educational consortium to place technical and adult education courses and programs in an online environment in order to provide an alternative instructional delivery model for adult students to gain workforce preparedness competencies and skills. The consortium is managed by a board of directors that represents each participating agency, and all policies are set by the board of directors with approval of the participating agencies. The board of directors elects a governing board known as the Executive Committee according to consortium bylaws. The board of directors determines the needed services and products, establishes the charge for services, sets policies, and establishes a uniform method for participating districts to evaluate services and products provided. The Executive Committee of the educational consortium implements policies and services voted upon by the board of directors of the consortium. Because only one vote per county is allowed, SF and ACPS have decided that ACPS will represent both SF and ACPS this year. The college anticipates that ACPS and SF will alternate each year such that SF will represent both ACPS and SF next year.

Terms of Use Agreement with EverFi, Inc. - Buttonwood - Personal Finance and Student Loan Management™

Santa Fe College was the recipient of a financial literacy grant from the Florida College System. SF's financial literacy initiative is designed to equip low-income, first-generation college and local school district students and their families with the knowledge and skills to make effective financial decisions in relation to paying for college; reduce the amount of students who default on student loans; and raise awareness regarding financial resources and literacy among these students. In addition, SF's short-term goal is to reduce the delinquent borrower lists and increase the amount of students who complete the FAFSA early or by the priority deadline, while the long-term goal is to decrease the institutional cohort default rate.

To that end, Buttonwood - Personal Finance and Student Loan Management™ is a turnkey platform to empower students with the skills to successfully manage their finances while in school and beyond, and minimize dropout and student loan defaults through education. Buttonwood applies proprietary "adaptive pathing" (life simulation) to deliver personalized experience to each student based on enrollment status, debt level, employment status, etc.

The college has chosen Everfi-Buttonwood for this service because, after a review of different providers, Buttonwood stood out as a tool that students would more likely use. This service is of no cost to the college for the first year. After evaluating its effectiveness, the college will decide if it wishes to continue this program or move to another free product.

National Endowment for the Humanities - Enduring Questions: What is a Good Life? -- Grant 409.1916, 12-13

The purpose of this project is to develop and implement a new three-credit course in the college's general education curriculum focusing on an enduring question of all Western and non-Western cultures, "What is a good life?" The course will challenge students to develop their own answers to this, and it will also connect them to answers from much larger and very different intellectual communities and traditions. The course will be taught from a common syllabus of core texts, supplemented by complimentary works chosen by each professor who will teach the course, eventually including faculty from many other disciplines. This course also supports Santa Fe College's participation in the Democracy Commitment and represents a culmination of the college's work in the Bridging Cultures initiative. This is year one of a two-year project.

Memorandum of Understanding with University of Florida -
Seahorse Key Marine Laboratory

408.2021, 12-13

To support an emerging student interest in marine sciences and coastal resources, and to strengthen collaboration between SF and two colleges at the University of Florida, the College proposes a new arrangement regarding UF's Seahorse Key Marine Laboratory. The contract will allow SF faculty teaching topics in biology, oceanography, and geography related to marine science - as well as faculty working in other subjects - to use the SHKML as a learning laboratory. Under this new collaboration, SF faculty will now have free day-use of the island, its facilities and equipment, as well as a continuing role in its management and operations. The agreement also makes the island and its facilities available for SF for possible use in non-credit community education and development activities.
