College for Kids (CFK) at Santa Fe College (SF) is a fun, learning-filled summer experience for children who are 10–14 years of age and rising fifth - ninth grade students. Use the section numbers provided in the course grid to create your schedule. When registering, carefully choose the correct dates, times and course numbers for each section. Choose six classes for a full day. Choose three classes for a half day (three morning or three afternoon sessions). No single class registrations permitted.

Parents or legal guardians are responsible for student transportation to and from the Northwest Campus.

One infraction will generate a warning. At the second infraction, the child will be expelled from the CFK program without a refund.

A lunch option has been created just for College for Kids. Students with the lunch option choose from Subway or Dominos. The cost for this lunch option is $55 per session. You may bring your lunch/drink or purchase a drink from the vending machines. Please be sure to add the lunch option with the correct section number.
