

Mathematics Courses ~ Flow Chart

Math is a subject that builds on prior knowledge, so it is very important to start in the right place. If you have not taken a college math course in the past year, we strongly recommend that you take a placement test to see which course is right for you. Once you get that baseline placement, the best practice is to take the class you placed into, or study/retest. For study materials, please visit http://www.sfcollge.edu/math/index.php?section=resources\_student. Please see our courses page for more information.

